THE COLLEGES VISITING LECTURERS SERIES

The Institute received partial funding from the Colleges Visiting Lecturers Committee for the following two events:

Dr. Yolanda Astarita Patterson, professor of French and Women's Studies at California State University, Hayward, gave the annual Simone de Beauvoir Lecture on the topic "You're Going to Offer a Whole Course on Simone de Beauvoir?" on October 16, 2000.

A Panel Discussion entitled "Women and Health: New Movements", was held at the Institute on March 7, 2001. Presentations included: Dr. Anna Alexander, "Narcotherapy and Women's Smoking"; Alison Carpenter, "Sexuality and Body Image"; Dr. Shree Mulay, "Globalization and Women's Health: Implications for the Reproductive Rights of Women"; Mary Swaine, N.D., M.I.A.C.T., "Reflexology and Colour Therapy"; and B. Maureen White, "A Feminist Ethical Perspective on Male Sexual Mutilation".

INSTITUTE EVENTS

January 11, 2001 marked the visit of feminist and peace activist, Starhawk. Her talk, "Magic, Vision and Action", took place at the Samuel Bronfman Building and was co-sponsored by Concordia's Department of Religion.

The Institute held its first annual Feminist Film Festival. The debut film, shown at the Institute on February 27, 2001, was a documentary by Manjira Datta, entitled "Present Times". The film documented the life of Dr. Joyati Gupta, a visiting Shastri Fellow, as she examined the demand for equal rights to land and productive resources of the state by the peasant women of West Bengal, India. The event was co-sponsored by Concordia's Political Science and Religion Departments. The second film, "Dress Fitting", by Concordia's Sandra Weber and McGill's Claudia Mitchell, examined issues of body image, identity, heteronormativity, and mother-daughter relationships evoked through memories of the high school prom. March 2, 2001, marked the premiere showing of this digital video. To mark the occasion, the filmmakers displayed examples of various dresses and prom memorabilia. On March 27, 2001, author and filmmaker Dai Sil Kim-Gibson traveled from New York to present her film, "Silence Broken: Korean Comfort Women", in H-110. The film examined the lives of the Korean women forced into sexual servitude by the Japanese Imperial Army during WWII. This event was co-sponsored by Concordia University's Departments of Anthropology & Sociology and Religion, the McGill Centre for Research and Teaching on Women and the Centre for East Asian Research. The fourth film in the series, "WereWere Liking", by Issiaka Konate, was presented in collaboration with the Département d'études françaises and the Consulat de France. It was screened on April 2, 2001 in the Faculty Club, H-767. It was not only part of the Simone de Beauvoir Institute's Feminist Film Festival, but also marked the debut of the series, "Féminisme et Francophonie", to be continued in the Fall of 2001.

On March 12, 2001, Dr. Jane Marcus, Distinguished Professor of English and Women's Studies at City University of New York, presented a lecture entitled "Can a Woman be a Public Intellectual? The Case of Nancy Cunard." Following the event, which was co-sponsored by Concordia's Department of English, a dinner was held at the Institute for invited friends and guests.

On March 22, 2001, Dr. Lillian S. Robinson held a reading and book signing of her academic feminist murder mystery, Murder Most Puzzling. Dr. Anna Alexander was the host and moderator for the event.

On April 6, 2001, the Simone de Beauvoir Institute and the Department of Art History co-sponsored "Anatomy, Masculinity and Sexuality". The lecture was given by Dr. Anthea Callen, Professor of Art History at Nottingham University, England.

The Simone de Beauvoir Institute co-sponsored, with the Departments of Religion and Political Science, a lecture by Shastri Fellow Poonam Saxena entitled "Domestic Violence, Dowry and Sexual Harassment in India".

The Women's Studies Student's Association (WSSA) held an evening of student films on April 28, 2001. This was the Association's first activity of the year, marking its resurrection at the Simone de Beauvoir Institute. The evening was held in collaboration with the Film Studies Student's Association.

IN-COURSE LECTURES

On April 3, 2001, Dr. Mousha Schwartz attended Dr. Chantal Maillé's course, Women and Peace (WSDB 390/4), to speak to students about her Holocaust experiences. Her talk was entitled "Living in Peace After the Holocaust". Dr. Maillé also had a speaker attend her Feminist Ethics course (WSDB 490/4) to discuss ethical investing.

Dr. Anna Alexander hosted lawyer, Ross Robins, in her course, Feminist Thought I (WSDB 380/2).

On March 13 and 20, 2001, Dr. Shree Mulay of McGill University and SOS Santé's Scott Weinstein, R.N., attended Dr. Lillian S. Robinson's course to discuss Globalization and Health.

Dr. Elizabeth Henrik gave a guest lecture in Sima Aprahamian's Science and Technology course.

Deidre Butler hosted Pat O'Rourke, Ombudsperson, Royal Victoria Hospital, who spoke about women and clinical research, and Shaila DeSouza, Shastri Fellow, who gave a talk on women's spirituality and childbirth rituals in India. Both lectured in her Feminist Perspectives on Health course (WSDB 391/2).

Periodical subscriptions renewed and/or begun: 17

Fines and on-going book sale raised: $192.54

The Reading Room continues to exchange publications with 1 Canadian and 14 international organizations.

Gifts and Donations

The following individuals generously donated material to the Reading Room:

Dr. Anna Alexander, Carol Barko, Sheena Gourlay, Pnina Granirer, Amy Henderson, Carol Mitchell, Nathalie Pilon, Dr. Lillian S. Robinson, and Dr. Katherine Waters.

Possible Expansion of the Reading Room

On November 28, 2000, Claude Lamarche from the Space Planning Committee came to look at the fourth floor to see if it is feasible to expand as requested in previous years. In April 2001, Nathalie Dion from Planning Development contacted us to find out our preferences regarding the expansion. Lonnie Weatherby, senior reference librarian from McLennan Library, McGill University, acted as a consultant as a professional courtesy and we have requested that the entire fourth floor be adapted to provide better facilities for the Reading Room. This would involve very little structural work and would just need doors removed. The expansion work is now scheduled to begin in summer 2001.

Visitors

Although the majority of the Reading Room's users are Concordia students, several students from McGill and Université de Montréal come here to do their research. Also, several professors from other countries visited the Reading Room this year, including Dr. Vu Thi Vinh, deputy director of Hanoi Architectural University, who is working on gender and development, and a colleague of Dr. Kaarina Kailo's from the University of Finland. Professor Linda Plaut of the Centre for Interdisciplinary Studies, Virginia Tech, and Dr. Chilla Balbeck, Professor of Women's Studies at the University of Adelaide, Australia, also visited the Reading Room.

Work Study Programme

Graduate student Isabelle Lamoureux, a Women's studies graduate, filled this position. She was hired for twelve hours per week for twelve weeks for two semesters.

Miscellaneous

As always, security patrolled sporadically, sometimes not appearing for weeks on end.
